Faith and Health is visible in the systematic way we develop partnerships. Owned by three Conferences of the United Methodist Church, Who are historic partners in ministry. From this base we are building a network with hundreds of congregations and faith communities that will help us care for our neighborhoods and our patients, before and after they are technically 'our patients.' Excellence is dependent on the way they develop partnerships with some of the leading academic institutions in the world that help us do the research and teaching necessary to continually push the standard of excellence higher and the boundaries of care farther. These partnerships with congregations and academic leaders make it possible for us to be a healing presence in the community beyond the hospital walls. We see this as a work of life that goes well beyond the aspirations of a regular hospital. Our community and our faith deserve nothing less.

INSURANCE AND HEALTH CARE COVERAGE

Children's Special Services, Tennessee Department of Health

814 Jefferson Ave; Memphis, TN 38105; 901 543 6848

To provide more comprehensive services to children with special health care needs in Tennessee, the Department of Health merged the Crippled Children's Services and the Speech and Hearing Services into one unit and implemented care coordination services to children enrolled in the program in 1992. The program was then identified as the Children's Special Services (CSS) program.

The implementation of the TennCare managed care system with the resulting enrollment of previously non-Medicaid eligible CSS population requires the Department to redefine the CSS program's medical and financial eligibility, provider network, covered services, and reimbursement methods. Children with special health care needs, especially those who are uninsured now have access to insurance through TennCare. The program recognizes the need to serve a broader group of children with special health care needs who meet the T.C.A 68-12-102 definition of "physically handicapped". Program resources will provide for diagnostically related necessary services for enrolled children when other payors will not provide
